

My grandmother was the most generous spiritual kind visionary I know. She inspires me every day with all the lessons I've learned from nutrition, natural healing and environment. Almost forty years ago she was already bringing her reusable bag to the farmers market. Did I mention she was an artist? We did so much together she took me to pottery class church and beach... Every day she is with me.

—Ana Paula Teeple