PVA invites your participation in this juried all-media exhibit, which seeks to educate, inspire, and develop greater interest in the democratic process. Artifacts and stories detailing the involvement of Monterey Bay residents in historic and current voting rights struggles will serve as the backdrop for the exhibit.

We ask you to submit your visual interpretations to the question, “What does the right to vote mean to me, my community, and/or my country?” Subject of artwork could include (but is not limited to): current and/or past voter suppression issues; loss/gain of voting rights to under-represented groups; meaning of the youth vote; and issues that you can or should be able to influence through your vote.

As part of the exhibit, we will be creating an historical timeline of voting rights/issues. If you would like to illustrate one of the timeline points (as a separate submittal), please contact Judy Stabile at judystabile@pvarts.org, and she will provide you the format and details.

2. Participation Fee: Upon acceptance/selection into the exhibit, there is a $30.00 participation fee for each artist, to be paid with the submittal of the loan agreement. The participation fee helps offset exhibit expenses. Some participation sponsorships may be available.
3. Commissions: If you are a member of PVA the commission to the gallery is 30%, for non-members it is 45%. You must be a member in good standing through May 26, 2019 to receive the lower commission rate.

5. Hanging: 2-dimensional pieces must be professionally presented with the back wired and ready to hang on the PVA hanging system. Please contact us if you need further instruction or assistance with this.
